Edward Allen Reges

1234 Somewhere Lane, City, State, Zip • C: (000)000-000 • handle@domain.com

Master of the Arts in English: Rhetoric & Composition May 2017 East Carolina University, Greenville, NC May 2017 East Carolina University, Greenville, NC December 2016 Faster of Arts in English & Philosophy December 2017 Backelor of Arts in English & Philosophy December 2018 Fast Carolina University, Greenville, NC December 2018 Baste Carolina University, Greenville, NC December 2018 Kassociate of Arts December 2018 Nash Community College, Rocky Mount, NC December 2011 Instructor: English Department, East Carolina University 2015 – present • Developed syllabi, schedules, and lesson plans to accommodate learning objectives 0 • Sostered a sense of community and purpose in learning environments 015 – present • Sostered a sense of community and purpose in learning environments 0 • Sostered a sense of community and purpose in learning environments Disciplines Writing Assessment: English Department, East Carolina University Summer 2016 • Calibrated rubric grading alongside three colleagues 0 • Calibrated rubric grading alongside three colleagues 0 • Assessed student portfolios for macro and micro-level elements such as purpose, organization, sentences, and formating
Teaching English in the Two-Year College Certificate May 2017 East Carolina University, Greenville, NC December 2016 East Carolina University, Greenville, NC Bachelor of Arts in English & Philosophy December 2017 Bachelor of Arts in English & Philosophy December 2017 East Carolina University, Greenville, NC December 2017 Associate of Arts December 2017 Nash Community College, Rocky Mount, NC December 2015 TeacHING EXPERIENCE 2015 – present Instructor: English Department, East Carolina University 2015 – present • Developed syllabi, schedules, and lesson plans to accommodate learning objectives 0 • Fostered a sense of community and purpose in learning environments 0 • Created activities for the ECU Writing Foundations blog Summer 2016 • Taught and assessed ENGL1100 Foundations of College Writing and ENGL2201 Writing Across the Disciplines Summer 2016 Writing Assessment: English Department, East Carolina University Summer 2016 • Calibrated rubric grading alongside three colleagues Assessed student portfolios for macro and micro-level elements such as purpose, organization, sentences, and formatting Writing Consultant: Bate Writing Center, East Carolina University 2014 – 2015 • Assisted student
East Carolina University, Greenville, NC December 2016 Frofessional Communication Certificate December 2016 East Carolina University, Greenville, NC Bachelor of Arts in English & Philosophy December 2013 East Carolina University, Greenville, NC Associate of Arts December 2011 Nash Community College, Rocky Mount, NC TeatCHING EXPERIENCE December 2015 – present Instructor: English Department, East Carolina University 2015 – present Overloped syllabi, schedules, and lesson plans to accommodate learning objectives Fostered a sense of community and purpose in learning environments Image: Created activities for the ECU Writing Foundations blog Isciplines Taught and assessed ENGL1100 Foundations of College Writing and ENGL2201 Writing Across the Disciplines Writing Assessment: English Department, East Carolina University Summer 2016 Assessed student portfolios for macro and micro-level elements such as purpose, organization, sentences, and formatting 2014 – 2015 Virting Consultant: Bate Writing Center, East Carolina University 2014 – 2015 Nassied student writers in various stages of the writing process including brainstorming, outlining, and Professional Communication Certificate December 2016 East Carolina University, Greenville, NC December 2013 East Carolina University, Greenville, NC Associate of Arts in English & Philosophy December 2011 Nash Carolina University, Greenville, NC December 2011 Nash Community College, Rocky Mount, NC December 2015 TEACHING EXPERIENCE 2015 – present Instructor: English Department, East Carolina University 2015 – present Image: Profession and assessed For Community and purpose in learning environments Erected a carivities for the ECU Writing Foundations blog Image: Profession and assessed ENGL1100 Foundations of College Writing and ENGL2201 Writing Across the Disciplines Summer 2016 Image: Calibrated rubric grading alongside three colleagues Summer 2016 Assessed student portfolios for macro and micro-level elements such as purpose, organization, sentences, and formatting 2014 – 2015 Writing Consultant: Bate Writing Center, East Carolina University 2014 – 2015 National consultant: Bate Writing Center, East Carolina University 2014 – 2015
East Carolina University, Greenville, NC December 2013 Fasac Carolina University, Greenville, NC Associate of Arts in English & Philosophy December 2011 Associate of Arts December 2011 Nash Community College, Rocky Mount, NC December 2015 TEACHING EXPERIENCE 2015 – present 0 Developed syllabi, schedules, and lesson plans to accommodate learning objectives 0 Fostered a sense of community and purpose in learning environments 0 Created activities for the ECU Writing Foundations blog 0 Taught and assessed ENGL1100 Foundations of College Writing and ENGL2201 Writing Across the Disciplines 0 Calibrated rubric grading alongside three colleagues 0 Assessed student portfolios for macro and micro-level elements such as purpose, organization, sentences, and formatting 0 Calibrated: purpose for macro and micro-level elements such as purpose, organization, sentences, and formatting 0 Assessed student portfolios for macro and micro-level elements such as purpose, organization, sentences, and formatting 0 Assessed student portfolios for macro and micro-level elements such as purpose, organization, sentences, and formatting 0 Assessed student portfolios for macro and micro-level elements such as purpose, organization, sentences, and formatting 0 <t< td=""></t<>
Backelor of Arts in English & Philosophy December 2013 East Carolina University, Greenville, NC December 2011 Associate of Arts December 2011 Nash Community College, Rocky Mount, NC Image: Community College, Rocky Mount, NC TEACHING EXPERIENCE 2015 – present Instructor: English Department, East Carolina University 2015 – present ○ Developed syllabi, schedules, and lesson plans to accommodate learning objectives ○ Fostered a sense of community and purpose in learning environments ○ Created activities for the ECU Writing Foundations blog ○ Taught and assessed ENGL1100 Foundations of College Writing and ENGL2201 Writing Across the Disciplines Viritiry Assessment: English Department, East Carolina University Summer 2016 ○ Calibrated rubric grading alongside three colleagues Summer 2016 ○ Assessed student portfolios for macro and micro-level elements such as purpose, organization, sentences, and formatting 2014 – 2015 Writiry Consultant: Bate Writing Center, East Carolina University 2014 – 2015 ○ Asseised student writers in various stages of the writing process including brainstorming. 2014 – 2015
 East Carolina University, Greenville, NC Associate of Arts December 2011 Nash Community College, Rocky Mount, NC TEACHING EXPERIENCE Instructor: English Department, East Carolina University 2015 – present Developed syllabi, schedules, and lesson plans to accommodate learning objectives Fostered a sense of community and purpose in learning environments Created activities for the ECU Writing Foundations blog Taught and assessed ENGL1100 Foundations of College Writing and ENGL2201 Writing Across the Disciplines Writing Assessment: English Department, East Carolina University Summer 2016 Calibrated rubric grading alongside three colleagues Assessed student portfolios for macro and micro-level elements such as purpose, organization, sentences, and formatting Writing Consultant: Bate Writing Center, East Carolina University 2014 – 2015 Assisted student writers in various stages of the writing process including brainstorming, outlining, and
Associate of Arts December 2011 Nash Community College, Rocky Mount, NC TEACHING EXPERIENCE Instructor: English Department, East Carolina University 2015 – present • Developed syllabi, schedules, and lesson plans to accommodate learning objectives • Fostered a sense of community and purpose in learning environments • Created activities for the ECU Writing Foundations blog • Taught and assessed ENGL1100 Foundations of College Writing and ENGL2201 Writing Across the Disciplines Writing Assessment: English Department, East Carolina University Summer 2016 • Calibrated rubric grading alongside three colleagues • Assessed student portfolios for macro and micro-level elements such as purpose, organization, sentences, and formatting Writing Consultant: Bate Writing Center, East Carolina University 2014 – 2015 • Assisted student writers in various stages of the writing process including brainstorming, writing, and Nash Community College, Rocky Mount, NC TEACHING EXPERIENCE Instructor: English Department, East Carolina University 2015 – present • Developed syllabi, schedules, and lesson plans to accommodate learning objectives • Fostered a sense of community and purpose in learning environments • Fostered a sense of community and purpose in learning environments • Created activities for the ECU Writing Foundations blog • Taught and assessed ENGL1100 Foundations of College Writing and ENGL2201 Writing Across the Disciplines Writing Assessment: English Department, East Carolina University Summer 2016 • Calibrated rubric grading alongside three colleagues sentences, and formatting • Assessed student portfolios for macro and micro-level elements such as purpose, organization, sentences, and formatting 2014 – 2015 • Assisted student writing Center, East Carolina University 2014 – 2015
TEACHING EXPERIENCE Instructor: English Department, East Carolina University 2015 – present Obveloped syllabi, schedules, and lesson plans to accommodate learning objectives Fostered a sense of community and purpose in learning environments Created activities for the ECU Writing Foundations blog Taught and assessed ENGL1100 Foundations of College Writing and ENGL2201 Writing Across the Disciplines Writing Assessment: English Department, East Carolina University Summer 2016 Assessed student portfolios for macro and micro-level elements such as purpose, organization, sentences, and formatting 2014 – 2015 Assisted student writers in various stages of the writing process including brainstorming, outlining, and 2014 – 2015
Instructor: English Department, East Carolina University 2015 – present • Developed syllabi, schedules, and lesson plans to accommodate learning objectives • Fostered a sense of community and purpose in learning environments • Created activities for the ECU Writing Foundations blog • Taught and assessed ENGL1100 Foundations of College Writing and ENGL2201 Writing Across the Disciplines Writing Assessment: English Department, East Carolina University Summer 2016 • Calibrated rubric grading alongside three colleagues Assessed student portfolios for macro and micro-level elements such as purpose, organization, sentences, and formatting Writing Consultant: Bate Writing Center, East Carolina University 2014 – 2015 • Assisted student writers in various stages of the writing process including brainstorming, outlining, and Developed syllabi, schedules, and lesson plans to accommodate learning objectives Fostered a sense of community and purpose in learning environments Created activities for the ECU Writing Foundations blog Taught and assessed ENGL1100 Foundations of College Writing and ENGL2201 Writing Across the Disciplines Writing Assessment: English Department, East Carolina University Calibrated rubric grading alongside three colleagues Assessed student portfolios for macro and micro-level elements such as purpose, organization, sentences, and formatting Writing Consultant: Bate Writing Center, East Carolina University 2014 – 2015 Assisted student writers in various stages of the writing process including brainstorming, outlining, and Fostered a sense of community and purpose in learning environments Created activities for the ECU Writing Foundations blog Taught and assessed ENGL1100 Foundations of College Writing and ENGL2201 Writing Across the Disciplines Writing Assessment: English Department, East Carolina University Calibrated rubric grading alongside three colleagues Assessed student portfolios for macro and micro-level elements such as purpose, organization, sentences, and formatting Writing Consultant: Bate Writing Center, East Carolina University 2014 – 2015 Assisted student writers in various stages of the writing process including brainstorming, outlining, and Created activities for the ECU Writing Foundations blog Taught and assessed ENGL1100 Foundations of College Writing and ENGL2201 Writing Across the Disciplines Writing Assessment: English Department, East Carolina University Calibrated rubric grading alongside three colleagues Assessed student portfolios for macro and micro-level elements such as purpose, organization, sentences, and formatting Writing Consultant: Bate Writing Center, East Carolina University 2014 – 2015 Assisted student writers in various stages of the writing process including brainstorming, outlining, and Taught and assessed ENGL1100 Foundations of College Writing and ENGL2201 Writing Across the Disciplines Writing Assessment: English Department, East Carolina University Calibrated rubric grading alongside three colleagues Assessed student portfolios for macro and micro-level elements such as purpose, organization, sentences, and formatting Writing Consultant: Bate Writing Center, East Carolina University 2014 – 2015 Assisted student writers in various stages of the writing process including brainstorming, outlining, and Disciplines Writing Assessment: English Department, East Carolina University Summer 2016 • Calibrated rubric grading alongside three colleagues • • Assessed student portfolios for macro and micro-level elements such as purpose, organization, sentences, and formatting • Writing Consultant: Bate Writing Center, East Carolina University 2014 – 2015 • Assisted student writers in various stages of the writing process including brainstorming, outlining, and Writing Assessment: English Department, East Carolina University Calibrated rubric grading alongside three colleagues Assessed student portfolios for macro and micro-level elements such as purpose, organization, sentences, and formatting Writing Consultant: Bate Writing Center, East Carolina University 2014 – 2015 Assisted student writers in various stages of the writing process including brainstorming, outlining, and Calibrated rubric grading alongside three colleagues Assessed student portfolios for macro and micro-level elements such as purpose, organization, sentences, and formatting Writing Consultant: Bate Writing Center, East Carolina University 2014 – 2015 Assisted student writers in various stages of the writing process including brainstorming, outlining, and Assessed student portfolios for macro and micro-level elements such as purpose, organization, sentences, and formatting Writing Consultant: Bate Writing Center, East Carolina University 2014 – 2015 Assisted student writers in various stages of the writing process including brainstorming, outlining, and sentences, and formatting Writing Consultant: Bate Writing Center, East Carolina University 2014 – 2015 • Assisted student writers in various stages of the writing process including brainstorming, outlining, and Writing Consultant: Bate Writing Center, East Carolina University2014 - 2015• Assisted student writers in various stages of the writing process including brainstorming, outlining, and
• Assisted student writers in various stages of the writing process including brainstorming, outlining, and revision
• Worked with students regarding elements of writing such as organization, claims, tone, and thesis
Peer Tutor: English and Spanish Service Learning, Nash Community College 2011
• Helped peers understand macro and micro- level errors in papers as English tutor
• Helped peers understand basic conjugation, pronunciation, and composition as Spanish tutor
RESEARCH EXPERIENCE
Research Assistant/Editor: Centering Spenser, East Carolina University Summer 2015
• Helped create interactive linking system between objects in digital tour and corresponding descriptions

Edward Reges Curriculum Vitae, page 2

• Edited and proofread prose, references, and hypertext markup for entire domain

Research Assistant/Blogger: Stuart Wright Collection, Joyner Library, East Carolina University 2014 – 2015

- Located artifacts of significant intrigue in collections and synthesized pieces into academic blog entries
- o Completed miscellaneous research-specific tasks such as categorization, digitizing, and referencing
- Praised for composition by Stuart Wright, proprietor of collection

PUBLICATIONS AND PRESENTATIONS

- Reges, E. (2016, April). Cherries to grenadine. Paper presented during the Male Characters/Voices in Creative Writing section of the English Graduate Student Conference, Greenville, NC.
- Reges, E., Flanagan, S., & Rose, R. (2015, June). Cherry Hill cemetery holds reminders of ECU's past. The Greenville Guardian. Hosted at http://greenvilleguardian.org/?p=5932
- Rose, R. Flanagan, S. & Reges, E. (2015, April). Cemetery rhetoric. Paper presented during the English Graduate Student Conference, Greenville, NC.
- Flanagan, S. Reges, E. & Rose, R. (2015, April). Cemetery rhetoric: A visual and textual lens for understanding the past. Presentation given during Research and Creative Achievement Week, Greenville, NC.
- Reges, E. (2014, February). Skeptical hypotheses and truth-contingent knowledge. Paper presented during the meeting of the East Carolina Philosophy Club, Greenville, NC.
- Reges, E. (2013, September). Understanding Gettier: Is justified true belief knowledge? Poster presented during the meeting of the East Carolina Philosophy Club, Greenville, NC.

AWARDS AND HONORS

Outstanding Student of the Arts – East Carolina University	2013
Philosophy Paper of the Year Nomination – East Carolina University Philosophy Dept.	2012 & 2013
Phi Sigma Tau Honor Society Inductee	2013
Outstanding English Student of the Year – Nash Community College	2011
R. Quillan Ward Memorial Scholarship Recipient	2011
Gamma Beta Phi Honor Society Inductee	2011
AFFILIATION AND LEADERSHIP
English Graduate Student Organization – Ethical Advisor / President	2014 - present
• Coordinated social events for the graduate student community
 Bolstered membership as interim president
• Provided perspective and focus on ethical and civic implications of organization
East Carolina University English Undergraduate Committee – Student Representative	2012 - 2013
 Voiced student perspectives and concerns on faculty decisions

o Maintained a steady presence in peer group to garner student perspectives